

Business Consulting

Whether you are a business startup or a business that has been in existence for a couple of generations, your people, processes and technology are the keys to whether your projects succeed or fail.

Our team will be able to help you:

- Assess your current initiatives and how they align with your company objectives.
- Identify areas for improvements regarding processes and technology.
- Help you build a plan to overcome problems that maybe holding your company back from meeting your objectives for your future growth.

Here are some of the reasons you might need these types of services:

- Software Vendor Selection
- Software implementation
- Business Process Review/Redesign
- Data Audit
- Software customization project
- Relaunch a failed implementation
- Issues with user adoption of new software or processes.
- You need better metrics for your business
- Migrating to a new software platform
- Specific or complex platform integration processes
- You want to consolidate your business processes.

Our end product from our business consulting will have the following:

- Overview of the project goals, KPI's, and recommendations to best implement your solution and support your company's team and strategies.
- Proof of concept, including presentations, cases, and customized product demo.
- Timelines for the project.
- Estimates for the need resources of time, tools/technologies, human capital, and funds.